How do I know if I need a fire certificate?

The following premises must have a fire certificate:

1. hospitals - regardless of how many people sleep there
2. care or nursing homes - regardless of how many people sleep there
3. ports / airport: any building which forms part of these, and includes an area used for passenger arrivals / departures from a ship or aircraft
4. hostels, tourist accommodation and lodging houses - certain rules apply (see below)
5. residential schools - certain rules apply (see below)
6. houses in multiple occupation (HMOs) - (see below)

Hostels, lodging houses, residential schools and tourist accommodation

Hostels, lodging houses, residential schools and tourist accommodation need a fire certificate if they:

- provide sleeping accommodation for more than 40 people

Houses in multiple occupation (HMOs)

From January 2013, houses in multiple occupation (HMOs) also require fire certificates.

Fire certificates for houses in multiple occupation \(HMOs\)

How to apply for a fire certificate

You can apply for a fire certificate by using the application form (FPA1) below. Completed forms should be sent to the Fire Service.

Download an FPA1 application form \(size 186kb\)

Download the scale of charges document that shows the fees applicable to this application \(size 199kb\)

Renewing a fire certificate

From January 2013 an amendment to the Fire Precautions (Jersey) Law 1977 means that all fire certificates must be renewed every 36 months from the date of issue.

Why do I have to renew my fire certificate?

By renewing your fire certificate, the States of Jersey Fire and Rescue Service will know about any significant changes that have been made to your premises. This could include:

- change of ownership
- change of 'responsible person' in the premises
- change of use
- material or structural changes

How much will it cost to renew my fire certificate?

The renewal cost is £80 (subject to a 2.5% yearly increase).

However, if you've made significant material or structural alterations, you may need to pay further charges.

How and when do I renew my fire certificate?

We will write to you, giving you three months' notice that you need to renew your certificate. You should return the completed FPA1(A) form to us before the date stated in the letter. You will be invoiced separately for the renewal fee. If we don't receive your application form by the stated date, your fire certificate will be considered cancelled. This means you may have to reduce the number of people within your premises until you apply for a new fire certificate.

From January 2016, failing to return your completed application of renewal by the expiry date will incur a 50% submission penalty which will be added to the standard renewal fee.
